1. Congenital syphilis

2. In women who are sick with syphilis and do not receive treatment, pregnancy usually terminates with a miscarriage or a stillborn. If children are born, they are usually infected with syphilis. Syphilis symptoms appear during the first months of life and most die. Syphilis may appear later. Children with congenital syphilis grow short, weak, and mentally retarded. Individuals with congenital syphilis often experience eye infections, develop deafness, and growth teeth incorrectly. Congenital syphilis can be cured with proper treatment.
